ABOUT CHRIS

With more than 30 years of technical experience, Chris Wickett is a driving force behind efficient, reliable property operations. His expertise spans HVAC, electrical, plumbing, and general facility systems, making him a versatile resource for both preventative maintenance and urgent repairs.

Chris's career began as a professional car mechanic, where he mastered diagnostics, precision repairs, and problem-solving under pressure, skills he now applies to the complex challenges of building management.

Over time, he expanded his knowledge into all areas of facility maintenance, developing a reputation for quickly identifying issues and implementing effective, cost-conscious solutions.

Beyond technical skills, Chris is known for his practical knowledge, attention to detail, and reliability. He takes pride in keeping properties operating safely, efficiently, and cost-effectively.

Chris's blend of mechanical know-how and property maintenance experience makes him not only a trusted resource for day-to-day operations, but also a key contributor to preserving the value and performance of our clients' assets over time.
